This information is current as of April 16, 2013.

Guilty and Not Guilty cases have been adjudicated.

Dropped -- some cases are dropped by the Honor System for very specific reasons -- the primary factors involve students being exonerated by co-accused students, student’s rights issues, and procedural issues.

In Investigation -- cases that have been received, opened, assigned to an Associate Justice and are being investigated prior to scheduling the judicial panel hearing.
Classification of Offense:
Each offense is classified according to several factors; initially, the starting level depends on the nature of the offense: for cheating, plagiarism, and falsification, guilty verdicts begin the process as Class II offenses. Work for Hire, Purchased Work, Tampering with University Records, and Possession of Unauthorized Academic Material begin as Class IV offenses.

Subsequently, the classification may be raised or lowered depending on evidence in the case for issues such as premeditation, recruitment, unauthorized entry, threatening personal harm, endangerment, or ambiguous/extenuating circumstances. These “raises” are cumulative (i.e. a Class II plagiarism case can be elevated to a Class III for premeditation and then further to a Class IV for endangerment -- providing there is evidence to support each circumstance).

Finally, the classification is authorized or adjusted by the Provost’s Representative during the final phase of adjudication.

Sanctions Resulting from Classification of Offense:
- Class I: 25 hours university service, probation & education, recommended single-weighted zero
- Class II: 50 hours university service, probation & education, recommended double-weighted zero
- Class III: 75 hours university service, probation & education, recommended double-weighted zero
- Class IV: one semester suspension, probation & education, recommended double-weighted zero
- Class V: one or two semester suspension, probation & education, permanent F (F*)
- Class VI: expulsion at end of semester, permanent F (F*) reserved for second offenses only
