Dear Colleagues,

The School of Visual Arts is requesting that the Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) with a concentration in Visual Communication Design be revised for the graduating class of 2021. It is requested that the BFA be titled "Bachelor of Fine Arts, Major in Graphic Design," thereby discontinuing the Visual Communication Design concentration. It is the goal of the School of Visual Arts to discontinue all concentrations under the BFA degree and have those incorporated into the name of our majors.

No additional resources are needed for the proposed new major.

Sincerely,

Kathryn Clarke Albright Associate Dean for Academic Affairs Professor of Architecture

Laturya Clarke Albright

Proposed Bachelor of Fine Arts, Major in Graphic Design

1. Purpose

In general, replacing the Visual Communication Design major concentration with the Major in Graphic Design will enhance the perceived value of the program among faculty, prospective and current students, alumni, and potential employers. It formalizes the tripartite division of the BFA's areas of study existing in practice but not name. In addition, this change aligns with current practices at the majority of Virginia Tech's 25 SCHEV-approved peer institutions.

Creating the Major in Graphic Design strengthens the profile of SOVA's curriculum in this area. The major will furnish robust education in this discipline, while also preparing our students for a career in graphic design aimed at academic, industry, and other professional sectors.

2. Justification

The proposed Major in Graphic Design reflects the department's decision to elevate some of the existing major concentrations in practice-based media. The three concentrations within the BFA are already well-enrolled and well-subscribed. This change seeks to bolster—practically as well as administratively—the profile, identity, and disciplinary thrust of each area of study.

As mentioned above, the creation of a major will have a significant positive impact on recruitment, admission, and retention efforts. Anecdotal evidence from program chairs and advising staff repeatedly affirms that students entering the program prefer to be accepted directly into a specific major, rather than under general the ART designation.

3. Relevance

As stated in the University's mission statement, Virginia Tech "is a public land-grant university serving the Commonwealth of Virginia and the nation...Through its focus on teaching and learning...the university creates, conveys, and applies knowledge to expand personal growth and opportunity." Majors in Graphic Design will develop conceptual abilities, problem-solving skills, and technical know-how required by a fast-paced, competitive field. The major will center on individual creativity, teamwork skills, and adaptability to changing markets and technologies.

The Graphic Design major will prepare students for the job market with practical experience and a full, professionally reviewed portfolio. Graduates of the program may find themselves working in print design, packaging design, and interaction design.

4. Required resources

No additional resources are required at present. However, if student numbers increase significantly, some additional resource may be required in terms of faculty, graduate student assistants, and advising as well as administrative assistance in order to maintain the quality equal to accreditation standards in the field. With increased enrollment, there would also be a need for additional classroom space and equipment.

5. Proposed Changes

The Visual Communication Design program would like to change the name of the program to Graphic Design, as it would greatly increase our name recognition and search engine optimization. Over time the industry vernacular changes (for instance, design used to be referred to as Communication Arts). Our research has shown that "graphic design" has more resonance with both high school students and their parents, who are our primary targets for recruitment.

The number of credit hours required for the revised BFA will remain at 120 credit hours. The Graphic Design Major Requirements remain virtually the same as the previous check sheet. However, ceramics courses are omitted, since our ceramics professor has retired, and insufficient course offerings in this medium are presently available.

Portfolio Review has been reconceived as a part of SOVA's admissions process and therefore is omitted as a departmental benchmark from the Satisfactory Progress Towards the Degree section at the end of the check sheet. Additionally, this section now contains language requiring students earn a C- or better in their Foundations courses and successfully complete a BFA exhibition.

Finally, a statement on double-counting credit hours in major and for the Art History Minor has been added.

6. Transition Plan

Students currently enrolled in the Visual Communication Design concentration will have through calendar year 2022 to graduate, and the Visual Communication Design concentration will be discontinued Fall 2022. Students eligible to graduate in 2021 or later will be affected by the discontinuation of the Visual Communication Design concentration and approval of the new Graphic Design major. Our plan to integrate the new major is as follows:

Existing students graduating in, or prior to, calendar year 2022 may follow the Visual Communication Design concentration check sheet for the year in which they plan to graduate, or beginning in Spring 2020 enrolled in the BFA degree, new Graphic Design major. The first graduation calendar year for students enrolled in the BFA degree, Graphic Design major will be 2021.

The first group of incoming students admitted to the BFA degree, new Graphic Design major is anticipated for Fall 2020. The admissions process for Fall 2020 will include an electronic portfolio review as part of the departmental requirements for consideration. Students will be accepted directly into the Graphic Design major based, in part, on their portfolios.

7. Communication to Students, Faculty, and Staff

Students will be informed of this change in a number of ways. Information will be shared with VT admissions and the CAUS, in particular its Director of Advising. Information and literature on the new major will be posted on the School of Visual Arts website and distributed at future recruitment events. Instructors, advisors, and administration will also communicate this information during the First Year Experience class, Foundations classes, and in the junior and senior level courses. Email notification will be sent to involved students enrolled in the School of Visual Arts.

Additionally, meetings will be held by the Graphic Design instructors to inform students and answer any questions regarding curriculum changes.

Faculty and staff will be informed of this change at School business meetings, executive committee meetings, and program meetings.

The major change will be communicated to the wider University community via the advising teams for each college (including University Studies), SOVA website, and VT admissions in order to ensure any interested internal and external transfers are aware.

Curriculum for Liberal Education Requirements

Students are responsible for completing the Curriculum for Liberal Education requirements that are in effect when they enter the university. The university requires students to complete course work from all seven areas of the Curriculum for Liberal Education.

GPA Requirements

Students must maintain a 2.0 GPA. In-major GPA requires a grade of C- or better to successfully complete a Studio Art course. In-major GPA is calculated on all ART courses.

Satisfactory Progress Toward Degree

The University requires every department to establish benchmarks by which their majors can demonstrate that they are making satisfactory progress toward a degree. In addition to the University requirement for satisfactory progress (See Satisfactory Progress in Academics chapter of Undergraduate Catalogue), in the case of the Graphic Design major, these benchmarks are:

- 1. Students must maintain a C- or better in required Foundations courses (1204, 1404, 1604, 1214, 1414).
- 2. Upon having attempted 72 semester hours (including transfer, AP, advanced standing and credit by exam) a Studio Art student must have completed at least 6 credits towards this major with a 2.0 overall GPA and have a minimum 2.0 in-major GPA.
- 3. Students must successfully complete their BFA exhibition (ART 4894).

Prerequisites

This check sheet contains elective courses that may have prerequisites not listed on this checksheet. Please see your advisor or consult the Undergraduate Course Catalog for more information.

Foreign Language Requirement

Students who do not successfully complete at least two units of a single foreign language, classical language or American Sign Language during high school must successfully complete six semester hours of a single college level foreign language or classical language at the college level. Suche semester hours are in addition to those normally required for graduation. Please see the undegraduate catalogue for details.

Double-Counting

No more that 50% of the graded course credits required for Minor: Art History may be double-counted by a student also enrolled in Major: Graphic Design.
